

About TNCHE

The Tennessee Council for History Education is a professional organization whose Board of Directors is dedicated to promoting the importance of history in schools and in society. The Council is supported by the contributions of individuals and Teaching American History grants. TNCHE links history in the schools with many activities sponsored by state and local organizations. We provide a communications network for all advocates of history education, whether in schools, colleges, museums, historical councils, or community groups.

Statement of Purposes

The Tennessee Council for History Education is organized and maintained to:

- advocate and advance the study and teaching of history in schools throughout the state;
- encourage and support the development and implementation of meaningful and effective history curriculum and instruction;
- provide professional development for history educators;
- provide for educational and professional interaction among history educators and public historians.
